

Shaun Tan's
The Lost Thing
From book to film

When you think of Shaun Tan, you think of his unique style of illustration. His work is a blend of the surreal and the familiar, often exploring themes of loss, identity, and the search for home. His most famous work, 'The Lost Thing', is a story about a boy who finds a strange, multi-eyed creature in a city that has been transformed into a wasteland. The story is told through a series of illustrations that show the boy's journey from discovery to acceptance.

The film 'The Lost Thing' is a beautiful adaptation of the story, capturing the essence of Tan's artwork. It features a voiceover by the author, which adds a layer of depth to the story. The film is a testament to the power of visual storytelling and the ability of art to evoke emotion and tell a story.
